FRIDAY, February, 11, 1898.

In the U. S. senate Friday Mr. Lindsey commented sharply upon the motives of the author and promoters of the resolution recently passed by the legislature of Kentucky demanding his resignation as senator. Mr. Lindsey, after defining his position upon the financial question, said that he was the representative of the whole people of Kentucky and not in any sense the agent of the Kentucky legislature. Above all he was, he said, a senator for the whole American people, and as such would perform his duties and cast his vote in accordance with his convictions and with the dictates of his conscience. In regard to his views on money he said: "My views on the silver question were as well known then as they are known today. They were the views of an overwhelming majority of the Democrats of Kentucky, and an overwhelming majority of the Republican party in that State. I stand today precisely where I stood when I received that unanimous endorsement by the Democrats of Kentucky. If those who were in accord with me four years ago are not so today, it is because they have changed their opinions, whilst I have remained steadfast. I criticize no one for changing his opinions, but I protest against being denounced as a betrayer of my trust, because my views remain unchanged."

LAWYERS over the state have petitioned the court of appeals to require that all transcripts shall be abstracted in brief and convenient form and be printed. This will greatly aid the court in considering the case, and, as it will put more cost on litigants, is believed will shut out a great many little 2 x 4 one-horse cases which are now crowded into the court of appeals dockets and which are pouring in from all over the state. It would indeed be a wise move if it will succeed in freeing out those small-try cases, as most of them amount to nothing and are generally filed by a short lawyer in order only to get his name on the docket.

COL. DAN COLLIER'S chances for the Louisville surveyorship looks brighter this week than ever before. Washington dispatches indicate that the appointment of Collier will have a tendency to hold the Bradley wing of the Kentucky republicans in line for McKinley and this point is being pushed for all its worth. There's not much love between the administration and Bradley element, and if Mr. McKinley has any idea of standing for re-nomination he will certainly make some concessions to Mr. Bradley's wishes, especially in this case.

JUDGE DENNY, who has been acting as referee in the matter of dishing out pie in the seventh district, has resigned the position. He endorsed a certain applicant for postmaster at Paris, Deboe agreeing to recommend the man. At the last minute, however, Deboe changed his mind and asked that another man be appointed, which was done. This caused Denny to get the line under his tail and kick clear out of the traces. He says he has nothing further to say about the distribution of Mr. McKinley's pastry.

A PETITION, which originated in Boyle county, calls upon Hon. John Young Brown to make the race for governor. Mr. Brown made a good officer and is a capable man, but he has been out of politics for a year or two and probably is not exactly "on top" of the up-to-date trickery which it requires to get a nomination these days.

SAILORS and navy officers are protesting vigorously against the plan to christen the Kentucky with water. They say the vessel will be known as unlucky among sailors if it is done, and will have difficulty in securing a good crew. The average sailor is so fond of old rot-gut that he imagines everything else has the same appetite.

EMPEROR WILLIAM should be cautious in discriminating against American fruits—especially the apple. The latter already holds the record for bringing about the fall of man.

Shott-Nott.
The following account may be interesting:
A duel was recently fought in Newport by Alexander Shott and Jno. S. Nott. Nott was shot; Shott was not. In this case it was better to be Shott than Nott.

There is a rumor that Nott was not shot, and Shott avows that he shot Nott, which proves either that the shot Shott shot at Nott was not shot or that Nott was shot notwithstanding. Circumstantial evidence is not always good. It may be made to appear on trial that the shot Shott shot not, or as accidents with firearms are frequent, it may be possible that the shot Shott shot shot Shott, himself, when the whole affair resolves itself into its original elements, and Shott would be shot, and Nott would be not. We think, however, that the shot Shott shot shot not Shott but Nott. Anyhow its hard to tell who was shot.

THE REMOVAL

Of the Circuit Court From Covington to Independence.
COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 7.—Promptly at 10 o'clock Monday morning Judge Tarvin convened the circuit court for Kenton county at Independence, the original county seat. The formal abandonment of Covington for court purposes was completed Saturday by the removal of the court records, and that part of the Covington courthouse occupied by the circuit court will remain closed until the orders of the judge are obeyed or the court of appeals declares the council's position correct.

The removal from Covington, the most populous portion of the county, and for more than forty years the home of the circuit court, to Independence, a village remote from any mode of transit except by vehicle, 11 miles in the country, and the only means of communication with the outside world one telephon, is an event unprecedented in the history of the courts of Kentucky. When it is known that nine-tenths of the business of the circuit court, which is in continuous session, comes from residents of Covington and its immediate suburbs, and that every lawyer, witness and juror interested must journey to Independence to attend the court, the inconvenience of the removal will be realized.

SEVEN COUNCILMEN Held as Prisoners by Order of Judge Tarvin of the Circuit Court.
INDEPENDENCE, Ky., Feb. 8.—The seven rebellious Covington councilmen are held prisoners in the courthouse here by the county sheriff, who is acting under the orders of Judge Tarvin. This is the result of contempt hearings Monday morning.
Shortly after ten o'clock the councilmen were arraigned before Judge Tarvin and Judge O'Hara attempted to plead their case, but he was sharply called to account by Judge Tarvin.
Judge O'Hara lost his temper and answered back, but friends advised against making any trouble, and under protest Mr. O'Hara retired.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 4.—In the house Thursday a number of bills were advanced by second reading.
These bills were killed by adverse report and vote: McKee's bill for benefit of circuit clerks, who will have to pay back the amounts received in the shape of $5-felony-case fees, and the bill providing for taking depositions in shorthand.

The bill raising the age of consent was amended to make the age of the male over 16 years and the age of the female under 14 years. The penalty was fixed at imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years. The bill was passed by a majority and its passage was clinched.

Cancer of the Face.

Mrs. Laura E. Mims, of Smithville, Ga., says: "A small pimple of a strawberry color appeared on my cheek; it soon began to grow rapidly, notwithstanding all efforts to check it. My eye became terribly inflamed, and was so swollen that I could not see. The doctors said I had Cancer of the most malignant type, and after exhausting their efforts without doing me any good, they gave up the case as hopeless. When informed that my father had died from the same disease, they said I must die, as hereditary Cancer was incurable."

"At this crisis, I was advised to try S.S.S., and in a short while the Cancer began to discharge and continued to do so for three months, then it began to heal. I continued the medicine a while longer until the Cancer disappeared entirely. This was several years ago and there has been no return of the disease."

St. Valentines day is almost here. History tells us that St. Valentine was a Bishop, martyred A. D. 273. In pagan Rome it was customary for youths to draw names in honor of the Goddess Februa on the 14th of February and when Paganism was abolished the honor was conferred upon St. Valentine. Charles Lamb says: "Hall to thy returning festival, oh Bishop Valentine! Great is thy name in the realm thou venerable arch-flame of Hyacinth; Thou immortal god of love, who and what manner of person art thou. Thou comest attended with thousands and ten thousands of little loves and Cupids, and the air is brushed with the hiss of rustling wings."

Concerning dehorned cattle, Swift & Co., of Chicago, says: "We do not consider hornless cattle worth more than those of the same quality and fattened with hays, except in rare cases where shippers would pay 3 to 10c more per hundred pounds for hornless cattle."

Root crops are best preserved by being kept in the dark, at a little above the freezing point, and they must have moisture. These conditions are not many nor very difficult to obtain, but are all important. A house cellar is not the place for root crops.

The Harrodsburg Democrat says that General Jno. B. Castleman will send his prize-winning saddle stallion and his great mares to the farm of his son, Mr. David Castleman, where the stallion will do service. General Castleman's idea of stock-raising is to secure only the very best foundation stock that can be had and to allow no deterioration of it. Nothing but the

Not Always Understood.

A fact often overlooked, or not always understood, is that women suffer as much from distressing kidney and bladder troubles as the men. The womb is situated back of and very close to the bladder, and for that reason any distress, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort.

The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided by setting urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need doctoring. If you have pain or dull aching in the back, pass water too frequently, or scanty supply, with smarting or burning, these are also convincing proofs of kidney trouble. If you have doctored without benefit, try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. The mild and extraordinary effect will surprise you. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures. If you take a medicine you should take the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention CENTRAL RECORD and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer. (5)
